See Karen Keely's comment...it references the note after the KUOW story. That note says: "The Navy has disputed the description provided by the EPA and the Washington Department of Ecology for the military jurisdiction of its hull-scraping operation outside Bremerton, Washington. The Navy says the vessel is docked at Naval Base Kitsap, not at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard."

We can't even agree on where the damned thing sits?

In the attached article, the ex-Independence is located within OUB Marine of the PSNS Complex Sfund site. The Navy is incorrect. You can let me know if you want to correct the Navy.
